As an introduction and guide to the world of university presses, this directory will be an essential reference and resource to anyone who is, or wants to be, involved in scholarly publishing.

The Association of American University Presses has for over fifty years worked to encourage the dissemination of scholarly research and ideas. Today the 102 members of the AAUP annually publish over 8,000 books and more than 500 periodicals. This directory offers a detailed introduction to the structure and publishing programs of AAUP member presses. Among its useful features are:

- Information on 102 university presses in the U.S., Canada, and overseas
- Complete addresses, phone and fax numbers
- Names and responsibilities of key staff
- Subject area guide, with 136 categories, indicating which presses publish in a given area
- Advice for authors on the submission of manuscripts

THE LOGICAL APPROACH TO SYNTAX

Foundations, Specifications, and Implementations of Theories of Government and Binding

Edward P. Stabler, Jr.

By formalizing recent syntactic theories for natural languages in the tradition of Chomsky's Barriers, Stabler shows how their complexity can be handled without guesswork or oversimplification. He introduces logical representations of these theories together with special deductive techniques for exploring their consequences that will provide linguists with a valuable tool for deriving and testing theoretical predictions and for experimenting with alternative formulations of grammatical principles.

ACL-MIT Press Series in Natural Language Processing A Bradford Book
432 pp., 81 illus. $40.00 (June)

MORPHOLOGY AND COMPUTATION

Richard Sproot

This book provides the first broad yet thorough coverage of issues in morphological theory. It includes a wide array of techniques and systems in computational morphology and describes some unusual applications.

Practical Mechanisms for the English Lexicon

*Graeme D. Ritchie, Graham J. Russell, Alan W.
Black, and Stephen G. Pulman*

Computational Morphology presents an integrated set of techniques for the rigorous description of morphological phenomena in English and similar languages. By taking account of all facets of morphological analysis, it provides a linguistically general and computationally practical dictionary system for use within an English parsing program.

THE ACL-MIT PRESS SERIES in NATURAL LANGUAGE PROCESSING

Aravind K. Joshi, Karen Sparck Jones, Mark Y. Liberman, Editors

The ACL Series will offer books of high quality in the field of natural language processing, including human and machine speech production and understanding. It will cover a wide range of topics, both theoretical and applied, which should interest researchers not only in computational linguistics, but also in formal linguistics.

The Series will include specially commissioned volumes, research monographs, textbooks, and on occasion, collections of high quality papers with clear unifying themes compiled under the editorship of distinguished researchers.

The MIT Press publishes the ACL journal, Computational Linguistics. The Press also has a strong list in formal linguistics and publishes the journal Linguistic Inquiry.

Submissions for the ACL Series should be directed to one of the Editors, or to Henry Bradford Stanton at The MIT Press

FOUNDATIONAL ISSUES IN NATURAL LANGUAGE PROCESSING

edited by Peter Sells, Stuart M. Shieber, and Thomas Wasow

William Rounds, Aravind Joshi, Janet Fodor, and Robert Berwick are leading scholars in the multidisciplinary field of natural language processing. In four separate essays they address the complex and difficult connections among grammatical theory, mathematical linguistics, and the operation of real natural-language-processing systems, both human and electronic. The editors' substantial introduction details the progress and problems involved in attempts to relate these four areas of research.

COGNITIVE MODELS OF SPEECH PROCESSING

Psycholinguistic & Computational Perspectives
edited by Gerry T.M. Altmann

Cognitive Models of Speech Processing presents extensive reviews of current thinking on psycholinguistic and computational topics in speech recognition and natural language processing, along with a substantial body of new experimental data and computational simulations.

A Bradford Book $55.00

PLAN RECOGNITION IN NATURAL LANGUAGE DIALOGUE

Sandra Carberry

In most current natural language systems each query is treated as an isolated request for information regardless of its context in dialogue. Sandra Carberry addresses the problem of creating computational strategies that can improve user-computer communication by assimilating ongoing dialogue and reasoning on the acquired knowledge.

A Bradford Book $35.00

INTENTIONS IN COMMUNICATION

edited by Philip R. Cohen, Jerry Morgan, and Martha E. Pollack

Guidelines for Submissions

Manuscripts for Computational Linguistics should be submitted on letter-size paper (8.5 by 11 inches, or A4), double-spaced throughout, including footnotes and references. The paper should begin with an informative abstract of approximately 150–250 words. Manuscripts must be written in English. Contact the editor regarding the possibility of electronic submission.

Submissions may be made in any of the following categories:

Paper: This category includes contributions that report significant new research results in computational linguistics or that provide critical reviews of the literature on a particular topic. The length of a paper depends on its content, but we suggest that manuscripts be limited to forty double-spaced pages. That is the equivalent of thirty journal pages: Each paper is fully refereed, being read by at least two members of the editorial board and usually by an additional expert in the particular subject area. The submission of an article to CL for refereeing means that the author certifies the manuscript is not copyrighted; nor has it been published or submitted for publication to another refereed journal. If any version of the paper has appeared, or will appear, in a non-refereed publication, the details of such publication must be made known to the Editor at the time of submission. The final version of a paper tentatively accepted for publication must be accompanied by a Copyright Transfer Agreement signed by all of the authors or, in the case of a “work for hire,” by the employer. This written transfer is necessary under the 1978 U.S. Copyright law.

Letters to the Editor: This includes statements of opinion on issues relevant to the readership. The Editor and the editorial board will evaluate the appropriateness of these contributions for inclusion.

Five copies of papers or three copies of letters should be sent to the Editor:

James F. Allen, CL Editor
Department of Computer Science
University of Rochester
Rochester, NY 14627, USA
(+1 716) 275-5288; acl@cs.rochester.edu

Squibs and Discussions: This section includes short articles reporting short technical results, algorithms, discussions of results, or new linguistic data of interest to the journal readership. Submissions should generally not exceed eight double-spaced pages and should be submitted to

James Pustejovsky, CL Squibs and Discussion Co-Editor
Computer Science Department
Brandeis University
Waltham, MA 02254, USA
(+1 617) 736-2709; jamesp@chaos.cs.brandeis.edu

Book Section: Anyone interested in reviewing a book, or in suggesting a book for review, should contact the Book Review Editor; publishers may also submit copies of books for review directly to the Book Review Editor:

Graeme Hirst, CL Book Review Editor
Department of Computer Science
University of Toronto
Toronto, CANADA M5S 1A4
(+1 416) 978-8747; gh@cs.toronto.edu

The FINITE STRING: Send (a) summaries of research in progress — of particular interest would be perspectives on the activities at a particular institution; (b) announcements of meetings of potential interest to the membership; and (c) personal notes (e.g., honors, moving, changes in status) to The FINITE STRING Editor. Time-sensitive material should be received by the first day of the second month of each quarter to appear in the next issue. Submissions (where possible in electronic form) should be sent to:

Founded in 1962, the Association for Computational Linguistics (ACL) is the primary scientific and professional society for natural language processing research and applications. A European chapter was established in 1982. Besides publishing Computational Linguistics, the ACL holds international meetings (annually in North America, biennially in Europe) where the state-of-the-art in natural language processing research and development is presented. It also sponsors a series of books on natural language processing through The MIT Press. Recently, special interest groups on the Mathematics of Language, the Lexicon, Parsing, and Generation have been formed; others are likely to be added.
