An International Handbook on Computer Oriented Language Research and Applications

Ein internationales Handbuch zur computergestützten Sprachforschung und ihrer Anwendungen

Edited by István S. Bátori, Winfried Lenders, and Wolfgang Putschke

1989. xxxiv + 933 pages. 8 folded maps. ISBN 3-11-009792-3. Cloth $442.00

(Handbücher zur Sprach- und Kommunikationswissenchaft, Band 4 / Handbooks of Linguistics and Communication Science, Volume 4)

The last 30 years have witnessed the emergence and growth of the discipline Computational Linguistics. This field, which is also known as linguistic data processing, language data processing, natural language processing, and information linguistics, reflects the interests of many different disciplines ranging from philology, linguistics, computer and information science, psychology, and psycholinguistics.

Despite this diversity, the discipline does have a clearly definable subject matter: the investigation of language and language phenomena by using the computer as a research tool. The Handbook aims to structure this relatively young discipline and to give as comprehensive a review as possible of its foundations, findings, and perspectives. The Handbook reflects the main binary division within the field of Computational Linguistics: (1) the computer as a tool for describing linguistic phenomena and processing the empirical data on which linguistic theories are based and; (2) the computer as a language user, as an artificially "intelligent" system that can thus be regarded as a simulation of natural language processing systems. By considering both description and simulation side by side, the Handbook presents this new discipline in its entirety and thus provides an orientation for individual researchers, teachers, and students in the field.

A bibliography of approximately 4,000 titles which are referred to in the articles completes the volume.

SOFTWARE DIVISION
HOUGHTON MIFFLIN COMPANY

SOFTWARE LINGUIST

The Software Division of Houghton Mifflin is looking for a Software Linguist -- a native speaker of German with competence in English and, preferably, another Western European language. A Software Linguist designs and develops proofreading and reference software for international office automation, desktop publishing, and educational markets. This position requires advanced training in linguistics or language instruction and one to two years of natural language software development experience. The ideal candidate will have excellent spelling and writing skills, be sensitive to both larger linguistic issues and lexical details, and be conversant in theoretical, practical, and computational linguistic issues.

Houghton Mifflin Company is a leading publisher of educational, reference, and trade books, and a supplier of linguistically-sophisticated software.

Keep abreast of the latest supercomputer applications and techniques by ordering your subscription to The International Journal of Supercomputer Applications.

Published quarterly by The MIT Press, each issue of Supercomputer Applications contains articles on a variety of computationally intensive problems, as well as:

- news on developments at supercomputer centers worldwide
- book reviews
- meetings calendar

If you subscribe now, you'll receive our Summer, 1990 issue devoted to a collection of articles that demonstrate the benefits of using visualization as a device for interpreting and evaluating computational results. Volume 4, No. 2 will be accompanied by an hour-long video tape with segments on each of the papers featured in this special issue.

Introducing the First Letters Journal Devoted Entirely to Neural Networks

NEURAL COMPUTATION

Terrence Sejnowski, Editor-in-Chief

This new quarterly from The MIT Press is the first letters journal to provide an interdisciplinary forum for the publication of important research results in neuronal modeling and computation.

Each issue of NEURAL COMPUTATION collects key information on new discoveries and guides the reader to sources for further details, making it easier to keep current. Until now, scientists had to search among numerous, disparate journals to find information on developments in the field. The journal includes:

- letters — research advances of general interest
- notes — brief announcements of technical results
- views — short essays that are accessible to all scientists
- reviews — significant advances in a general area

NEURAL COMPUTATION provides a valuable overview of the broad range of work contributing to the field. The disciplines covered include neuroscience, psychology, physics, mathematics, computer science, and artificial intelligence.

"Understanding the brain is a challenge that is attracting a growing number of scientists and engineers from many disciplines. NEURAL COMPUTATION will serve as a crossroads where they can meet and exchange ideas."

— Terrence Sejnowski, Editor-in-Chief

ACL 1990 DUES STATEMENT

Note LATE PAYMENT FEE for Renewals after 15 March; Institutions Subscribe through MIT Press

Personal membership in the Association for Computational Linguistics is for the calendar year, regardless of when dues are paid. Membership includes a full year of the ACL journal Computational Linguistics, reduced registration at most ACL-sponsored conferences, and discounts on ACL-sponsored publications. Institutional memberships were discontinued in 1988 when MIT Press began publishing the journal; instead, institutions should subscribe to the journal through MIT Press Journals, 55 Hayward Street, Cambridge, MA 02142 USA; 617:253-2889. Back issues and proceedings are available only from the ACL Office, except that institutions should backorder journals from 1988 on through MIT Press. An order form is on the other side of this statement. The change in publishing required establishing a late payment for renewals made after 15 March, because of the extra mailing and handling costs. The late payment fee does not apply to new members. Dues and back order payments can be made in Europe and Japan as well as the U.S.; read the directions under the heading PAYMENT below carefully. Identify your institutional affiliation if it is not part of your address. Also please provide your telephone number and computer network address.

INTERNATIONAL FUND: INTERNATIONAL FUND $_____

The ACL set up a fund in 1982 to make ACL memberships and publications available to colleagues who have difficulty in using their national currencies for international transactions or for whom membership would otherwise be impossible. Contributions may be tax-deductible in the United States and in some other countries; check local regulations.

PAYMENT: Prepayment is necessary; invoices are available on request. Checks should be made out to the Association for Computational Linguistics (or to ACL). Payments can be made to one of the addresses below, as follows:

1. In the USA to Walker; mail this dues statement with a check or money order in U.S. dollars, drawn on a U.S. bank, payable to ACL.
2. In Switzerland to Rosner; mail this dues statement with a check or money order in U.S. dollars, Swiss francs, or the equivalent in local currency on the day of payment, payable to ACL. Payment can also be made by bank transfer to account number 141.880.LAV at the Union Bank of Switzerland, 8 rue de Rhone, CH-1211 Geneva 11, SWITZERLAND. Send Rosner a copy of the bank transfer as well as the dues statement. Standing orders can be established only with bank transfers. Note: EUROPEAN MEMBERS SHOULD PAY THROUGH ROSNER UNLESS THEY HAVE A U.S. BANK ACCOUNT.
3. In Japan to Nagao; transfer an equivalent amount in yen on the day of payment to "Dai-ichi Kangyo Bank, Hyakumanben Branch; Ordinary Deposit, 476-1319944; Name: Keisangengogakkai Kaihi Nagao Makoto." Mail this dues statement to Walker together with a copy of the bank transfer. Also send Nagao a copy of the bank transfer. Note: THE DUES STATEMENT MUST BE SENT TO WALKER TO BE PROPERLY RECORDED IN THE ACL OFFICE.

Guidelines for Submissions

Manuscripts to Computational Linguistics should be submitted on letter-size paper (8.5 by 11 inches, or A4), double-spaced throughout, including footnotes and references. The paper should begin with an informative abstract of approximately 150-250 words. Manuscripts must be written in English.

Submissions may be made in any of the following categories:

PAPER: This category includes contributions that report significant new research results in computational linguistics or that provide critical reviews of the literature on a particular topic. The length of a paper depends on its content, but we suggest that manuscripts be limited to forty double-spaced pages. That is the equivalent of twelve journal pages. Each paper is fully refereed, being read by at least two members of the editorial board and usually by an additional expert in the particular subject area.

The submission of an article to CL for refereeing means that the author certifies the manuscript is not copyrighted; nor has it been published or submitted for publication to another refereed journal. If any version of the paper has appeared, or will appear, in a non-refereed publication, the details of such publication must be made known to the Editor at the time of submission. The final version of a paper tentatively accepted for publication must be accompanied by a Copyright Transfer Agreement signed by all of the authors or, in the case of a "work for hire," by the employer. This written transfer is necessary under the 1978 U.S. Copyright law.

TECHNICAL CORRESPONDENCE: This category includes short articles reporting preliminary results of some project in progress, or the results of other studies of interest to the readership. Technical correspondences should not generally exceed eight double-spaced pages. Each technical correspondence is reviewed by at least two members of the editorial board before acceptance.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR: This includes statements of opinion on issues relevant to the readership. The Editor and the editorial board will evaluate the appropriateness of these contributions for inclusion.

Five copies of papers, technical correspondences, and letters should be sent to the Editor:

James F. Allen, CL Editor
Department of Computer Science
The University of Rochester
Rochester, NY 14627, USA
INTERNET:acl@cs.rochester.edu

Anyone interested in reviewing a book, or in suggesting a book for review, should contact the Book Review Editor; publishers may also submit copies of books for review directly to the Book Review Editor:

Graeme Hirst, CL Book Review Editor
Department of Computer Science
University of Toronto
Toronto, CANADA M5S 1A4
INTERNET:gh@ai.toronto.edu

The FINITE STRING Editor should receive (a) copies of technical reports and reprints of papers published elsewhere—or at least citation information and abstracts of such items and of books and monographs; (b) summaries of research in progress—of particular interest would be perspectives on the activities at a particular institution; (c) announcements of meetings of potential interest to the membership; and (d) personal notes (e.g., honors, moving, changes in status). Time-sensitive material should be received by the first day of the second month of each quarter to appear in the next issue. Two copies of submissions (where possible in electronic form) should be sent to The FINITE STRING Editor:

Ralph Weischedel, The Finite String Editor
BBN Systems & Technologies Corporation
10 Moulton Street
Cambridge, MA 02238, USA
INTERNET:weischedel@bbn.com

NOTE All submissions other than papers should reach the pertinent editor no later than the first day of the first month of each quarter.
