A Model output

Table 1 shows example outputs from our model. They are derived from our devset with document article ID pairs as follows: document=127e1efe32-b11e606a0c-8f49a2399a-bb4a52f9d9, article ID=1,3; and document=ebfad83ccf-1214df5664-32798c54de-b17e91d958, article id=2. The first example indicates the soundness of complete sentence as answer (beheaded vs she is beheaded). The second example represents the importance of answer synthesizing when answer is not exactly present as span in the document. The third example shows the importance of multi-sentence attention in Context Zoom layer.

Table 1: The predictions are from our model ConZNet (SS=5). Due to space constraints we showed only two selected sentence (blue in color). The Last two columns Answer Exactly Present in the Document(AEPD), Multiple Sentences Required to Answer (MSRA) shows the importance of our hybrid approach of Answer Generation and Context Zoom layer which captures intra sentence relations while zooming.
