

Multiword Expressions at the Grammar-Lexicon Interface

Timothy Baldwin

Dept of Computing and Information Systems,
The University of Melbourne
tb@ldwin.net

Abstract

In this talk, I will outline a range of challenges presented by multiword expressions in terms of (lexicalist) precision grammar engineering, and different strategies for accommodating those challenges, in an attempt to strike the right balance in terms of generalisation and over- and under-generation.